

CONTENTS

|                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                |     |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------|-----|
| Marx's Multidimensional Knowledge Structure and the Formation of Historical Materialism.....                                                                                                             | Tan Qunyu                      | 1   |
| Re-understanding the Speed Vision of Political Economy Criticism and Its Significance.....                                                                                                               | Zhuo Chengfang                 | 9   |
| The "Der Einzige" of Stirner: An Investigation from the Perspective of Peculiarity and Egoism.....                                                                                                       | Liang Bingyang                 | 15  |
| The Three Elements of Praxis and Three Dimensions of Practical Philosophy: Object,Consciousness and Language .....                                                                                       | Ye Jiabin                      | 21  |
| Dialectical Interpretation and Political Purport of the "Social-historical" Space .....                                                                                                                      | Xie Lixia Qiu Jie              | 29  |
| The Political and Philosophical Implications of Space Justice in Contemporary China: Based on theThought of Marx and Engels .....                                                                        | Ma Chao Wang Yan               | 36  |
| Research on the Development Course of Marxist Historiography in New China (1949 – 1966):Based on the Investigation of Historical Research .....                                                   | Yang Fengcheng Fu Jizuo        | 43  |
| The Current Issue of China's Small Farmers from the Perspective of Marxism: On the Controversy between theFree Market Group and the Small Farmer Economic Group .....                                    | Zhang Huipeng                  | 51  |
| The Emergence of "Angang Constitution" and Mao Zedong's Thought of Socialist Political Economy.....                                                                                                      | Yin Sheng                      | 60  |
| What Is Reflection? Discuss about the Method of Consciousness-Phenomenology .....                                                                                                                            | Ni Liangkang                   | 67  |
| History and Being: An Introductory Study on Heidegger's View of Metaphysical History .....                                                                                                                   | Guo Liang                      | 75  |
| From Following the Principle of Sufficient Reason to Suspending It: The Turn of Marion's Third Reduction.....                                                                                            | Du Zhantao                     | 83  |
| Parmenides and the Pre-Socratic Disputes over the Being .....                                                                                                                                         | Cao Cong                       | 90  |
| "Sein ist offenbar kein reales Prädikat" in the Context of the First Critique .....                                                                                                                          | Liu Fengjuan                   | 96  |
| A Transcendental Interpretation of Kant's Concept of Citizen .....                                                                                                                                           | Ju Jun                         | 102 |
| "Why Be Moral?" and Other Issues in the Cheng Brothers' Philosophy: Response to Jeeloo Liu,Justin Tiwald, and Kam-por Yu .....                                                                           | Huang Yong Trans. by Cui Yaqin | 110 |
| Skirmish between "Doubting the Antiquity" and "Corroborating the Antiquity": A Re-discussion onthe Essence of the Latter in Light of the Debate between Shiratori Kurakichi and Hayashi Taisuke..... | Nishiyama Hisashi              | 120 |
| The Second Revolution in the Science of History and the Writing of Chinese Philosophy: A Clue fromHuShi to FengYoulan .....                                                                | Wang Qinling                   | 128 |
| Reasons, Patterns and Contexts: An Argument Analysis of Zichan's Utterances .....                                                                                                                            | He Yang                        | 135 |
| From Filial Piety and Fraternal Duty to Upholding Filial Piety and Honesty: On the Isomorphism ofPolitics and Ethics in Han Dynasty .....                                                                | Cao Wanfeng                    | 142 |
| A Re-evaluation of Wang Fuzhi's Philosophy .....                                                                                                                                                             | Liao Xiaowei                   | 148 |
| The Characteristics of Sima Guang's Interpretation of Zhongyong and Its Shortcomings.....                                                                                                         | Zhang Peigao                   | 155 |